(1) In September 2023, we acquired Deepwater Aquila, an ultra deepwater drillship under construction for Liquefaction, a previously unconsolidated variable interest entity, by acquiring the outstanding ownership interests in Liquefaction. The seventh generation, high specification drillship is designed to be equipped with our patented dual activity, a 1,400 short ton hookload, large deck space, high load capacities and will be dual stack ready. The rig is expected to commence operations under its drilling contract in mid-2024
